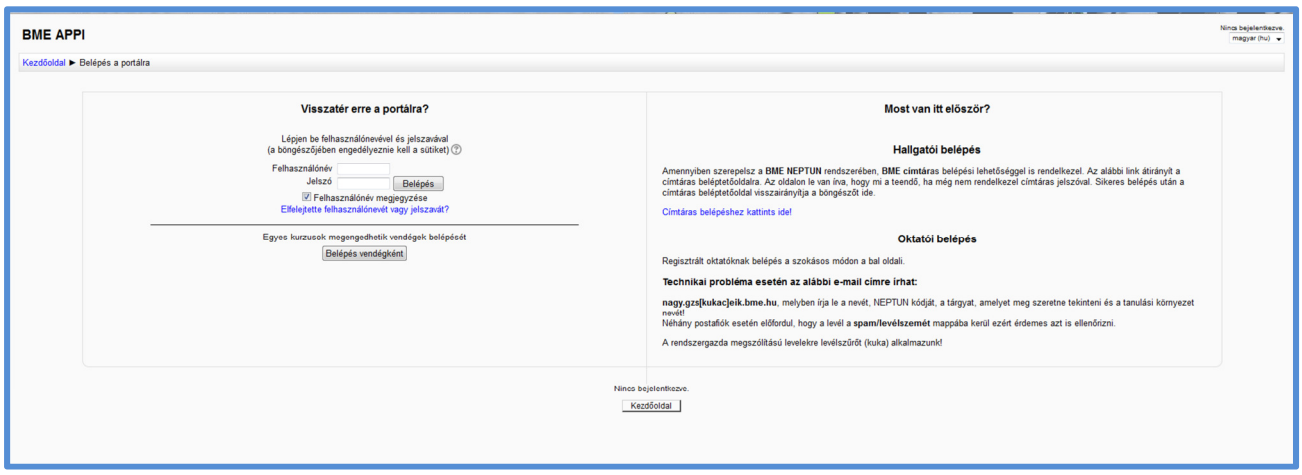
Registration guide for Moodle system at BME Institute for Applied Pedagogy and Psychology (APPI)

You can reach BME APPI Moodle login page at: http://moodle.appi.bme.hu/

Click on Belépés button to log in:



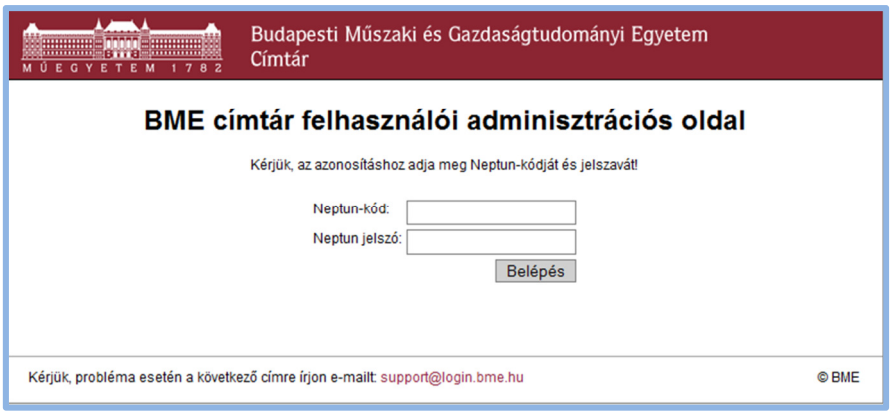
1. Figure: Login page

The basic information about logging in can be found on the right. Click on „Címtáras belépéshez kattints ide!" link if you wish to login with your previously registered Címtár user name. You should use the user id registered in Címtár (it is not identical to your Neptun code).

1. Figure : BME Címtár login page

If you not a registered user of BME Címtár yet, click on the link to register.

The registration page is as follows:



2. Figure: BME Címtár registration form

In order to register you need to provide your personal Neptun code and Neptun password. Click on Belépés to reach the admin page. Here you will be given your Címtár id, which consists of a 5 digit number and @bme.hu ending.

You are now allowed to set your password. Make sure to follow the password setting guidelines! Please, store your ID and password as from now on can log into BME APPI Moodle system using them.

3. Figure: Setting the password

After successful registration, you can login at BME Címtár home page with your id and password.

After login, the system will forward you to BME APPI Moodle electronic learning surface, where you can reach your profile in the right upper corner. Please, fill in the necessary personal data. Your first and last name, as well as your e-mail address are already implemented and cannot be altered. Make sure to refresh your profile by clicking on Profil frissítése button.

4. Figure: BME APPI Moodle profile page

On BME APPI page under Kurzusaim you can find your Neptun courses and the curriculum attached.

Speaking from experience, some user allow their browsers to remember their login and password information and don't make records of the. Please, make sure to write down your login information as it can be crucial during your studies as you will be asked to login at various locations.

We wish you good work!